

To the woman who has to plan all of the expenditures for the home, the store ads. are the most important—as they should be the most interesting—reading matter in the newspaper.

VOL. CVI. NEW SERIES—NO. 13,719.

The Courier-Journal.

LOUISVILLE, TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 24, 1906.—10 PAGES.

The beginning of good salesmanship is to find the "possible buyer." In this the "thousand-eyed-want" ads. are useful.

PRICE (THREE CENTS. TEN THIRTS FIVE CENTS.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Tuesday and Wednesday: Kentucky—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday, with showers; Wednesday, variable winds. Tennessee—Fair in west, showers in east portion Tuesday and probably Wednesday. Indiana—Fair Tuesday, Wednesday fair, warmer, variable winds.

THE LATEST.

Members of the dissolved Russian Parliament met yesterday at Viborg, Finland, and after issuing an address to the people appointed a committee to continue the work for freedom. The address, after calling attention to the wrongs inflicted upon their representatives by the Government, urges the people to "discontinue paying taxes and furnishing troops for the imperial army. Several of those who participated in the meeting returned to St. Petersburg last night and were not molested, but it is believed at least two others will soon be behind prison bars. The meeting was adjourned precipitously because of the appearance of troops who were instructed to make arrests if there was any disposition to ignore an order to disperse. The newspaper offices in St. Petersburg are guarded by soldiers, the object evidently being to prevent the publication of the address.

The conferences which the President has had with Republican leaders, indicates that the Republican campaign for Congress will be directed by him. The outlook not being bright for Republican success, and Mr. Roosevelt, it is claimed, being responsible for the condition, leaders are to assume charge. Defeat, it is asserted, would greatly reduce his influence, and give other members of the party a chance.

President Roosevelt announces that he is pleased with the campaign plans of the Republican Congressional Committee. The committee met yesterday with the President and it was decided that a "stand pat" programme was the proper one. Messrs. Taft, Shaw, Cannon and Beveridge were agreed upon as the "big guns" for the stump. The committee will open headquarters in New York to-morrow.

The fourteenth conference of the Interparliamentary Union was opened in the Royal Gallery of the Palace of Westminster, at London yesterday. Delegates of international peace from all the parliaments of Europe, as well as several of those of the Western Hemisphere, were present.

A detachment of constabulary encountered a band of 600 Filipinos near Buranin in the island of Leyte, Philippine Islands. Lieut. Worrick, civilian scout, McBride and twelve privates being killed. The Americans were routed.

Jerry Miller, a saloonkeeper of Bristol, Tenn., upon receiving word that he had fallen heir to mining property worth $2,000,000, gave his saloon to his backer and announced that he would never sell another drop of an intoxicating beverage.

Statistics collected by the United States Consulates throughout France and tabulated by Consul General Mason show that exports to the United States for the year ending June 30, reached the record-breaking total of $167,240,347.

Col. Samuel Donaldson, who was doorkeeper of the House of Representatives during Mr. Carlisle's term as Speaker, died suddenly of heart failure yesterday at his home in Washington.

The first wireless message from the Arctic regions was sent Saturday by Walter Wellman, to President Roosevelt. Mr. Wellman has reached Hammerfest on his way to the pole.

Three officials of the House and the House of Representatives have been indicted by the New York grand jury on the charge of selling bogus certificates of membership.

Testimony in rebuttal was begun yesterday in the Hartle divorce case in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Hartle's counsel having concluded the introduction of evidence.

Fifteen indictments on charges of restraint of trade in the matter of advancing the price of ice were returned by the Cincinnati grand jury.

Ferdinand Saar, author and member of the upper house of the Austrian Reichsrath, shot himself at his residence in Döbling. He had been suffering from nervous prostration.

The British House of Commons passed its third reading the Irish Landers' Cottages Bill by a vote of 155 to 139.

The funeral of Russell Sage will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock.

A young woman of St. Louis died from eating pickle and drinking vinegar, which she had heard would reduce weight.

J. B. Hicks, former Judge of the Illinois Supreme Court, died yesterday at his home in Taylorville, Illinois.

The body of Lady Curzon was buried yesterday in the family vault, in the village churchyard of Knebworth.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says there is no foundation for the report that Count Leo Tolstoy is ill.

URGE PEOPLE TO RESIST

Address by Former Members of Parliament.

Want Demands For Taxes and Troops Ignored.

Revolutionary Action and Arrests Expected.

Committee Appointed to Continue the Work.

NEWS WILL BE SUPPRESSED.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The great news today is the adoption of an address to the people by the Deputies to Parliament who assembled at Viborg, the language of which, with its revolutionary demands that the people cease to furnish money and troops to the Government and repudiate further loans, affords pretext enough for the Government to lodge its authors in the fortress if it feels strong enough. A rumor was spread to-night that this course had been decided upon.

A large crowd gathered at the Finland station to-night, where the Deputies were expected to arrive, but only a few appeared, and these were not molested and neither was there a popular demonstration. Among the arrivals were President Mourmisseff and Count Heyden, returned to St. Petersburg by evening train. The Constitutional Democratic cohorts intend to go to St. Petersburg in a body in the morning, but many of the radical members, fearing their arrest on their arrival at the capital, will remain for the present in Finland or return by roundabout routes.

The address, which bears a remarkable similarity to the manifesto framed by the council of workmen last November, which landed its authors and editors of eight St. Petersburg newspapers in the cells of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, strikes the Government in its most vulnerable point by declaring that the administration and not Parliament is responsible for the delay in the settlement of the agrarian question, and by proclaiming a cessation of payment of taxes and repudiation of service and a repudiation of future loans.

Police At Newspaper Offices.

Copies of the appeal to the people are in the hands of all St. Petersburg newspapers, but it will scarcely be printed to-morrow, for the reason that a detachment of police is posted at the door of every newspaper printing office in the city, with orders not to permit any papers to leave the building until authorized by the censor. The authorities hope by equally vigorous measures to prevent the publication of the appeal in other cities, and in the meantime to nullify the fears of the people as to the possible effect of the appeal.

Police to-night are posted at the lodgings of M. Sedelnikoff and M. Ilyn, awaiting the return of these revolutionary delegates, who already have involved themselves by seditious acts since the dissolution of Parliament.

The theaters and other places of amusement were almost empty to-night, the public fearing conflict between crowds and military and police. Several encounters took place in various parts of the city, but they were all of a petty character.

Provisional Government.

A few days may witness the constitution of a "provisional Government," composed of an enlarged council of Ministers; with the inclusion of conservative members of the dissolved House of Parliament, counselors of the empire and men influential in the life of the empire, who can be introduced to accept Ministries, without portfolios, and contribute their authority and advice to the hard pressed Government. This is the solution to which Premier Stolypin and the members of his Cabinet, who realize the enormous nature of the task of tiding over the country during the tempestuous era that is now dawning, are turning, and it was the subject of deliberation at the meeting of the Cabinet last night and again this evening.

The Associated Press is informed that a majority of the Ministers have become converts to the idea that its adoption depends on the success of M. Stolypin in inducing men like former Finance Minister Shipoff, Count Rydzisoff, former Commerce Minister Tiflitzoff and M. Guchkoff to compromise their future by allying themselves with such a "King's council." Shipoff and Guchkoff already have been approached.

Elections In December.

The Associated Press also is informed that a ukase will soon be issued fixing the date for elections for Parliament for the first week in December, Russian style, and that as an additional guarantee that the principal of popular representation will not be abandoned another edict will be issued promulgating the Council of the Empire until the convocation of the new Parliament without, as was prophesied. Sunday night, calling new elections for elective members.

Meanwhile the masses of the Russian people, slow of thought and action, have not yet roused themselves to the gigantic upheaval which is to follow the dissolution of their Parliament. Minor disorders are reported from half a dozen cities. An incipient anti-

RUSSIANS WALK OUT OF HALL

Mournfully Say They Have No Official Standing.

Dramatic Scene at Interparliamentary Union.

William J. Bryan One of the Conspicuous Figures.

GREETED WITH LOUD CHEERS.

London, July 23.—The fourteenth conference of the Interparliamentary Union was opened in the Royal Gallery of the Palace of Westminster to-day. Adherents of international peace from all of the Parliaments of Europe, as well as several of those of the Western Hemisphere, were present, but hardly had the conference opened amidst characteristic Russian embracing and kissing.

A few members, including President Mourmisseff, M. Petrunkevitch and Count Heyden, returned to St. Petersburg by evening train. The Constitutional Democratic cohorts intend to go to St. Petersburg in a body in the morning, but many of the radical members, fearing their arrest on their arrival at the capital, will remain for the present in Finland or return by roundabout routes.

The address, which bears a remarkable similarity to the manifesto framed by the council of workmen last November, which landed its authors and editors of eight St. Petersburg newspapers in the cells of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, strikes the Government in its most vulnerable point by declaring that the administration and not Parliament is responsible for the delay in the settlement of the agrarian question, and by proclaiming a cessation of payment of taxes and repudiation of service and a repudiation of future loans.

Police At Newspaper Offices.

Copies of the appeal to the people are in the hands of all St. Petersburg newspapers, but it will scarcely be printed to-morrow, for the reason that a detachment of police is posted at the door of every newspaper printing office in the city, with orders not to permit any papers to leave the building until authorized by the censor. The authorities hope by equally vigorous measures to prevent the publication of the appeal in other cities, and in the meantime to nullify the fears of the people as to the possible effect of the appeal.

Police to-night are posted at the lodgings of M. Sedelnikoff and M. Ilyn, awaiting the return of these revolutionary delegates, who already have involved themselves by seditious acts since the dissolution of Parliament.

The theaters and other places of amusement were almost empty to-night, the public fearing conflict between crowds and military and police. Several encounters took place in various parts of the city, but they were all of a petty character.

Provisional Government.

A few days may witness the constitution of a "provisional Government," composed of an enlarged council of Ministers; with the inclusion of conservative members of the dissolved House of Parliament, counselors of the empire and men influential in the life of the empire, who can be introduced to accept Ministries, without portfolios, and contribute their authority and advice to the hard pressed Government. This is the solution to which Premier Stolypin and the members of his Cabinet, who realize the enormous nature of the task of tiding over the country during the tempestuous era that is now dawning, are turning, and it was the subject of deliberation at the meeting of the Cabinet last night and again this evening.

The Associated Press is informed that a majority of the Ministers have become converts to the idea that its adoption depends on the success of M. Stolypin in inducing men like former Finance Minister Shipoff, Count Rydzisoff, former Commerce Minister Tiflitzoff and M. Guchkoff to compromise their future by allying themselves with such a "King's council." Shipoff and Guchkoff already have been approached.

Elections In December.

The Associated Press also is informed that a ukase will soon be issued fixing the date for elections for Parliament for the first week in December, Russian style, and that as an additional guarantee that the principal of popular representation will not be abandoned another edict will be issued promulgating the Council of the Empire until the convocation of the new Parliament without, as was prophesied. Sunday night, calling new elections for elective members.

Meanwhile the masses of the Russian people, slow of thought and action, have not yet roused themselves to the gigantic upheaval which is to follow the dissolution of their Parliament. Minor disorders are reported from half a dozen cities. An incipient anti-

RUSSIANS WALK OUT OF HALL

Mournfully Say They Have No Official Standing.

Dramatic Scene at Interparliamentary Union.

William J. Bryan One of the Conspicuous Figures.

GREETED WITH LOUD CHEERS.

London, July 23.—The fourteenth conference of the Interparliamentary Union was opened in the Royal Gallery of the Palace of Westminster to-day. Adherents of international peace from all of the Parliaments of Europe, as well as several of those of the Western Hemisphere, were present, but hardly had the conference opened amidst characteristic Russian embracing and kissing.

A few members, including President Mourmisseff, M. Petrunkevitch and Count Heyden, returned to St. Petersburg by evening train. The Constitutional Democratic cohorts intend to go to St. Petersburg in a body in the morning, but many of the radical members, fearing their arrest on their arrival at the capital, will remain for the present in Finland or return by roundabout routes.

The address, which bears a remarkable similarity to the manifesto framed by the council of workmen last November, which landed its authors and editors of eight St. Petersburg newspapers in the cells of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, strikes the Government in its most vulnerable point by declaring that the administration and not Parliament is responsible for the delay in the settlement of the agrarian question, and by proclaiming a cessation of payment of taxes and repudiation of service and a repudiation of future loans.

Police At Newspaper Offices.

Copies of the appeal to the people are in the hands of all St. Petersburg newspapers, but it will scarcely be printed to-morrow, for the reason that a detachment of police is posted at the door of every newspaper printing office in the city, with orders not to permit any papers to leave the building until authorized by the censor. The authorities hope by equally vigorous measures to prevent the publication of the appeal in other cities, and in the meantime to nullify the fears of the people as to the possible effect of the appeal.

Police to-night are posted at the lodgings of M. Sedelnikoff and M. Ilyn, awaiting the return of these revolutionary delegates, who already have involved themselves by seditious acts since the dissolution of Parliament.

The theaters and other places of amusement were almost empty to-night, the public fearing conflict between crowds and military and police. Several encounters took place in various parts of the city, but they were all of a petty character.

Provisional Government.

A few days may witness the constitution of a "provisional Government," composed of an enlarged council of Ministers; with the inclusion of conservative members of the dissolved House of Parliament, counselors of the empire and men influential in the life of the empire, who can be introduced to accept Ministries, without portfolios, and contribute their authority and advice to the hard pressed Government. This is the solution to which Premier Stolypin and the members of his Cabinet, who realize the enormous nature of the task of tiding over the country during the tempestuous era that is now dawning, are turning, and it was the subject of deliberation at the meeting of the Cabinet last night and again this evening.

The Associated Press is informed that a majority of the Ministers have become converts to the idea that its adoption depends on the success of M. Stolypin in inducing men like former Finance Minister Shipoff, Count Rydzisoff, former Commerce Minister Tiflitzoff and M. Guchkoff to compromise their future by allying themselves with such a "King's council." Shipoff and Guchkoff already have been approached.

Elections In December.

The Associated Press also is informed that a ukase will soon be issued fixing the date for elections for Parliament for the first week in December, Russian style, and that as an additional guarantee that the principal of popular representation will not be abandoned another edict will be issued promulgating the Council of the Empire until the convocation of the new Parliament without, as was prophesied. Sunday night, calling new elections for elective members.

Meanwhile the masses of the Russian people, slow of thought and action, have not yet roused themselves to the gigantic upheaval which is to follow the dissolution of their Parliament. Minor disorders are reported from half a dozen cities. An incipient anti-of Europe from the burdens of their military budgets could not be fruitless. The Parliaments must follow suit. Count Apollon's suggestion, a telegram was sent to King Edward, as follows: "The interparliamentary conference received the King's sanction with profound gratitude. May he long be spared to promote the welfare of his people and the cause of international peace."

Russians Withdraw.

Then came the most dramatic moment of the opening of the session. Prof. Kovalevsky rose, but some minutes elapsed before he could gain a hearing, so prolonged was the cheering.

Finally, in a voice somewhat broken with emotion, he announced the necessity for the withdrawal of the members of the Russian Parliament. He said: "We cannot here in behalf of the Russian nation to participate in the great work of the conference. The Russian people desire peace. The mission of the Russian Parliament was to smother a great people from a regime of violence and substitute for it a sense of reality, liberty and justice. We hoped to have an active part in your work, but our mission comes to a sudden end, as our Parliament, having been dissolved, are no longer official representatives. Our sympathy remains to continue the great struggle for freedom, liberty and the cause of international peace."

The announcement of the withdrawal of the Russian delegates met with a storm of protests and shouts of "No," and attempts on every side to induce the Russians to remain, but the latter learned that they no longer had any official status, and must leave England for Russia this evening and return to the "battleground." The Russian delegates then left the hall, and the delegates settled down to their work. But the interests attending the dissolution of the Russian Parliament were not some time discussed far more eagerly than the business of the conference.

Lord Weardale, who in the meantime been elected president, had some difficulty in getting the excited delegates quieted, but ultimately attention became absorbed in the discussion of the reports of the commissions on the American proposals for an international conference to settle the arbitration treaty to be submitted to the next conference of The Hague.

Mr. Bartholomew said, when the conference adjourned for lunch.

Cheers For Bryan.

At this afternoon's meeting William Jennings Bryan arose, his appearance being heartily cheered. "I cannot see," he said, "that people have any justification in killing each other before investigating questions involved. There is no question of the sufficiency of the evidence to move an amendment to Herr Von Plehner's recommendation to be appended to the Committee's report. I go further than his without going too far. This is my resolution: If a disagreement should occur between contracting parties, which in the terms of the proposed arbitration treaty need not be submitted to arbitration, they should, before declaring war or engaging in hostilities whatever, submit the question to The Hague Court or some other impartial international tribunal for investigation and for report, each party reserving the right to act independently afterwards."

Lord Weardale also incidentally mentioned President Roosevelt as having been associated with them in the work of peace.

Lord Weardale's Address.

Speaking in French, Lord Weardale said:

In taking the chair at this great gathering to which you have done me the honor of calling me, my mind naturally goes back to another meeting fourteen years ago when, at the second conference in London, I was also privileged to preside. Our union then was only in its infancy. Its birth two years before in a small room at the Hotel Continental in Paris, and at which only thirty-eight of us were present, had attracted little or no attention and few then foresaw how rapid would be its growth and how far the influence which in times to come it was destined to exercise. But great causes in whatever humble fashion they may be conceived, but which have for their object the true advancement of mankind, will in the long run prosper and prevail. Men have come and gone, many of the distinguished statesmen who took an interest in the early stages of our existence have passed away. Happily the two veteran founders of our movement, Mr. Frederik Passer and Mr. Randalcremer, are still with us and with what justice they will rejoice to have been permitted to witness the fruits of their labors and their forecast. To-day we are about to open the fourteenth conference. In the various capitals of Europe and in the United States of America we have seen at successive conferences our membership swelling; the area of our representation enlarged; and the views which we advocate received with increasing favor. Our efforts have been directed in the past. Where are the scoffers to-day? The advocates of peaceful methods of settling international differences, the friends of conciliation and justice, are day by day gaining ascendancy in all civilized countries. The apologists of war no longer occupy the first place in the public eye.

We may and do admire the bravery of the soldier and the sailor, the skill of the great General or Admiral, but the world is beginning to respect even more the man of peace. The solution of the international differences in the application of the principles of conciliation and justice rather than by ruthless agency of the sword.

British Premier Speaks.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman, in reply, reminded his hearers that King Edward had always been a great advocate of peace. The British Government, he said, was in entire sympathy with the object of the conference, whose work had already aroused among the nations a strong feeling in favor of peace. The world had far too long been nothing less than a huge military camp.

The premier especially greeted the members of the Russian Parliament present, and also paid a tribute to Emperor Nicholas, who had done so much toward the enhancement of ideas of peace. It could, he thought, be safely asserted that the Russian Parliament, although dissolved, was sure to again come into existence.

The premier, in a sudden access of enthusiasm, shouted: "Le donna est morte! Vive la donna. (The Parliament is dead! Long live the Russian Parliament.)"

The delegates rose to their feet, and a storm of cheering continued for a couple of minutes.

In conclusion, the premier said that he hoped that at the next peace conference at The Hague a general act would be drawn up providing for the submission of questions of dispute without restrictions of The Hague tribunal for the universal good of humanity.

Count Apollon, the Hungarian Minister of Worship, followed, characterizing the premier's speech as a direct message from King Edward, the latter announcing, on his own initiative, his complete adhesion to the work from the conference.

The Count went on to say that the British Premier's appeal for the relief

HOTEL SWAMPED BY THE EDITORS

Kentucky Press Association Has Many Woes.

May Change Plan and Meet In Louisville.

Accommodations Entirely Insufficient.

DRYNESS ADDS DISCOMFORT.

Grayson Springs, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—Dry, jammed into a few rooms, with hardly enough places for them to lay their heads, and even wives separated from their husbands, the Kentucky Press Association is now at the hotel here, but there is a possibility that the whole party may fold its tents to-morrow and return to Louisville, there to hold the regular session.

The press party simply swamped the hotel to-day, and to-night it seemed impossible to care for all of them. Four and five persons are in rooms which were meant for only one. The party is expressing its dissatisfaction with the arrangements, and a meeting of the executive committee was called to consider the situation.

The proprietor of the hotel met with the committee to-night, and there was a heart-to-heart talk on how the conditions can be bettered. The committee was told that there was a chance of doing something for them to-morrow, and a decision is to be given at 9 o'clock. Unless the hotel proprietors are able to arrange better accommodations than now exist, the association will hold its meeting in Louisville this week, and all the party will leave here to-morrow.

Wet Goods Held Up.

To add to the woes of the editors, they have been shut off completely from all drinks except plain, unvarnished water. This is a prohibition district, and consequently there are no saloons. It is impossible to buy anything in the "liquor" line here, and in anticipation of this event the editors had stocked up fairly well with a supply of the stuff for which the State is famous. It was carried down to the train this morning and put off at the station, which is about two miles from the hotel. It did not come over with the party, and messengers were sent back for the much-desired article.

The station agent blocked all efforts to relieve the thirst. He declined to surrender the packages, saying it was a violation of the law. Three efforts were made to get him to give up, but he was stubborn and continued to decline. Later a fourth messenger was sent. To the station agent this messenger said the contents of the packages were water for use in making punch. The agent said if they would open the packages and show him that it was water and not whisky, they could get the packages. The packages are still at the station and not a thing to drink is to be had at the hotel.

It is said that several members of the party have been extremely popular during the evening and that their rooms are a regular mecca.

Crowd Larger Than Expected.

The excuse given by the proprietors of the hotel for not having sufficient accommodations for the party is that they did not expect such a large crowd. The party numbered about 200, and the hotel was already full, so that the addition of this large number simply swamped the hotel people. Some arrangements may be made to-morrow that will give the press party what they expected here, but it is regarded by some as probable that the whole trip will be rearranged.

The editors and their wives and daughters reached the station near the springs this afternoon on time and everybody happy. They all looked forward to a pleasant visit. They were met at the station by vehicles of all kinds and conveyed to the springs quickly. They found the hotel decorated with flags and banners and a warm welcome awaiting them.

Reception and Dance.

After supper to-night a reception was held in the parlors of the hotel, to get everybody acquainted. The following received the party, and helped to introduce one to another: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gullion, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Needham, Vernon Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCarty. After the reception a dance was held in the ballroom, and the evening passed pleasantly for all.

Vernon Richardson, the secretary, to-day received a telegram from the directors of the Jamestown Exposition, inviting the association to come to Norfolk and see the site for the exposition, to be held next summer, and also to see what is being done to make it a great exposition. The invitation will be acted upon at the regular business session, but it is almost certain that it will not be accepted as all arrangements have been made for the junket.

The secretary also received an invitation signed by the directors of the exposition, the Board of Trade, and other business men's organizations, of Norfolk, inviting the association to hold its meeting in Norfolk next year. The invitation says they will be the guests of the business organizations. No action will be taken on this until the business sessions, which will begin to-morrow.

Only three candidates for State offices in the Democratic primary are here. They are Ruby Laffoon, John Chenault and Hubert Vreeland. These three are mixing with the editors, and talking politics as well as newspaper work.

BRAINARD PLATT.

Guests At Luncheon Here.

The delegates gathered in Louisville yesterday morning with their wives and sweethearts, and were the guests of the Times and Courier-Journal at an elaborate buffet luncheon at the Old Inn. The serving of the excellent viands was under the personal direction of Otto Seelbach, and the menu was highly enjoyed. There were several impromptu talks and the occasion was enjoyable.

Among those who enjoyed the Courier-Journal and Times luncheon, and who left afterward for Grayson Springs were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wallace, son Bruce and Miss Gile Snyder, Warsaw Independent. M. J. McCarthy and John McCarthy, Mayville Ky. Chas. F. Hart, Morehead. W. J. Donahoe, H. H. Donahoe, Miss Minnie Donahoe, Miss Bertha Donahoe and Miss Nina McGinnis, Bowling Green. A. D. Miller, Richmond Ky. C. E. Woods, Richmond Ky. G. R. Keller and Mrs. Fannie Metzer, Carlisle, Kentucky. Tim Needham and H. S. Needham, Wilmington Courier. Wm. Remington and Mrs. Wm. Remington, Park Democrat. Harry McCarty, Jacksonville Journal. Hugh Williamson and J. Ross Williamson, Lexington Ky. J. Elgin Anderson, Dubois Ky. News. D. H. Cook, Bedford Ky. Tribune Democrat. D. Thornbury, Lebanon, Ky. The Falcon. G. J. Fullam, Mrs. Stacie Cardwell and son, Wesley Cardwell, Harrodsburg Herald. Daniel Guber, Bullitt Pioneer, Shepherdsville. Harry Sommers, Elizabethtown News. W. G. Gullion, Miss Mildred Gullion and Walter Gullion, New Castle Local. Harry Hill and Miss Hester Valentine, Midway Clipper. B. W. Fugate, Owensboro Messenger. S. K. Vaughn, Danville. D. Miller, Richmond Clinax. Mayor Clarence E. Woods, Richmond. W. V. Richardson, Danville News. W. J. Menzies, Kentucky Standard. Mott Ayres, Fulton Daily Leader, Fulton Ky. J. W. Barrall, Shepherdsville. Miss Willa Dawson.

COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE

TIME AND PLACE FOR CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

Will Call Meeting of Ninth District Committee For July 28.

Frankfort, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—State Executive Committee Will A. Young, of the Ninth district, will call a meeting of the Democratic Committee of that district, to be held at Ashland on Saturday, July 28 next, for the purpose of arranging time and manner of making a nomination for Congress.

CANDIDATES MEET

In Eighth District In Joint Debate On Their Merits.

Lancaster, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—James I. Hamilton, of this city, and Harvey Helm, of Stanford, candidates for the Democratic nomination for the Eighth district, spoke here at the Courthouse this afternoon to an interested and enthusiastic crowd.

Mr. Carter's Canvass.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—The Hon. Lillard Carter, of this city, who is the only announced candidate for Attorney General, has just returned from an extended trip. He has made a thorough canvass of over half of the State, and says he is well pleased.

McChesney At Cythiana.

Cynthiana, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—H. V. McChesney, Secretary of State and candidate for Auditor in the Democratic primary, spoke here to-day to a large crowd in the Courthouse at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

CHECK FOR $190,000

PRESENTED FOR PAYMENT AT EVANSVILLE BANK.

Insane Woman Says She Is J. P. Morgan's Sister and a Queen.

Evansville, Ind., July 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Elizabeth Cissel, an aged woman, escaped from the insane asylum here to-day, and presented a check at one of the banks for $190,000, which bore the name of J. P. Morgan. The woman said she was Morgan's sister. The police took the woman in charge, and did not suspect she was insane until she said she was a Queen. Mrs. Cissel was returned to the asylum.

Reception and Dance.

After supper to-night a reception was held in the parlors of the hotel, to get everybody acquainted. The following received the party, and helped to introduce one to another: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gullion, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Needham, Vernon Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCarty. After the reception a dance was held in the ballroom, and the evening passed pleasantly for all.

Vernon Richardson, the secretary, to-day received a telegram from the directors of the Jamestown Exposition, inviting the association to come to Norfolk and see the site for the exposition, to be held next summer, and also to see what is being done to make it a great exposition. The invitation will be acted upon at the regular business session, but it is almost certain that it will not be accepted as all arrangements have been made for the junket.

The secretary also received an invitation signed by the directors of the exposition, the Board of Trade, and other business men's organizations, of Norfolk, inviting the association to hold its meeting in Norfolk next year. The invitation says they will be the guests of the business organizations. No action will be taken on this until the business sessions, which will begin to-morrow.

Only three candidates for State offices in the Democratic primary are here. They are Ruby Laffoon, John Chenault and Hubert Vreeland. These three are mixing with the editors, and talking politics as well as newspaper work.

BRAINARD PLATT.

PASSING HAT FOR MONEY

Jerry Miller So Elated Over the News
That He Gives Away His Business.

Bristol, Tenn., July 22.—[Special].—Jerry Miller, a Bristol saloonkeeper, to-day received news from Lander, Wyo., that by the death of his uncle, J. H. Miller, at Lander, he had fallen heir to mining property valued at $2,000,000. Jerry Miller has been an invalid for several years. He was so elated over the news that he made his bartender, W. O. Trener, a present of his saloon business, and left to-night for

OF BEREA COLLEGE.

The Rev. John A. R. Rogers Dies At Woodstock, Ill.

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—[Special].—The Rev. John A. R. Rogers, aged seventy-eight years, one of the founders of Berea College, in Kentucky, is dead at the home of his son-in-law, Noble Hill, at Woodstock, Ill. He had been a professor in Berea since the day of its founding.

WE ARE BUILDING THEM

AND SELECT ONE OF THE REMAINING CHOICE CITY LOTS.

WHITE HOMES

BUILDING ALREADY COMMENCED.

In spite of the rain many people took advantage of the two great sale days and many nice houses will be built at once in this future white home section of Louisville.

RIGHT IN THE CENTER OF THE CITY. FOR WHITE PEOPLE ONLY.

Office: 22d St. and Garland Ave. TITLE GUARANTEED BY KENTUCKY TITLE COMPANY

BEGIN WORK

Preparing for State Fair This Fall.

FOUR LOUISVILLE MEMBERS FOR BOARD OF CONTROL.

VARIOUS COMMITTEES TAKE UP THEIR WORK.

GATES TO CLOSE AT 6 P. M.

Charles B. Norton, Caldwell Norton, George L. Danforth and L. H. Hudson, were named members of the Board of Control of the permanent State Fair, to represent Louisville, yesterday and the board organized for immediate and active work in making arrangements for the fair this fall. The meeting of the board was held yesterday morning and afternoon at The Seelbach. Aside from the Louisville members, it consists of five members of the State Board of Agriculture. They are W. B. Harris, Lawrence Jones, W. B. Morgan, Guthrie Wilson and M. A. Scovell. Mr. Harris was elected chairman of the board and the announcement was made that Joshua B. Bowles, of Paducah, had accepted the secretaryship of the fair for one year at a salary of $1,500.

Great progress was made in the organization of the board for work preliminary to the fair. A number of committees were named and instructed as to their duties, many of them being ordered to report progress at the next meeting of the board which will be held Friday at The Seelbach. It was decided by the board that the fair should be held in daylight and that the gates should be closed promptly at 6 o'clock. It was further decided that the choice of the site for the fair this fall lies between the new Louisville Jockey Club grounds and Douglas Park. The choice of the site will be announced at the meeting Friday.

Mr. Bowles, who accepted the secretaryship of the fair, is credited with having much to do with the great showing made by Kentucky horses at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. He had offered his resignation from the State Board of Agriculture to Governor Beekman and his uncle, Guthrie Wilson, also of Bardonia, has been named as his successor.

Committees Selected.

On motion of Caldwell Norton, C. B. Norton and Lawrence Jones were appointed on a committee to select and rent offices in Louisville for the State Fair. Mr. Jones' motion that the board should meet at 9:30 o'clock every Friday morning in the office hereafter to be selected was carried.

Lawrence Jones and C. B. Norton were appointed a committee with power to close a deal for grounds for holding the fair this fall and they were ordered to report at the meeting of the board next Friday. The question of location has narrowed down to a choice between the new Louisville Jockey Club Park grounds and Douglas Park. On motion of Mr. Jones an invitation was extended to Commissioner Hubert Vreeland to meet with the board at any time and as often as it might suit his pleasure. The secretary was directed to notify Mr. Vreeland of this action of the board.

LOUISVILLE REPRESENTATIVES ON BOARD OF CONTROL OF STATE FAIR.

CALDWELL NORTON.

GEORGE L. DANFORTH.

L. H. HUDSON.

CHARLES B. NORTON.

man, Jr., were charged with looking after the cattle exhibit; Hubert Vreeland was charged with attending to the exhibits and the appointment of officials for all other departments of the fair, and was given full power to make such appointments. It was decided that at the next meeting of the board each of the committees be requested to give an expression as to the compensation their members think should be paid the judges and superintendents in their various departments.

The afternoon session of the board was attended by all the members, and lasted from 2 until 4 o'clock. J. J. Telford was appointed as chairman of the committee on the grounds for the fair and a representative of each railroad entering Louisville, to act with him in the obtaining of favorable transportation rates.

Peter Lee Atherton, Lawrence Jones and Marion E. Taylor, guarantors of the fund of $55,000, were named as the Finance Committee of the board, and were given power to appoint a treasurer and a committee on the fair.

L. H. Hudson, Caldwell Norton and M. W. Neal were named to constitute a Committee on Improvements of the grounds for the fair. Mr. Neal was given full power to appoint other members to their committee if they so desired.

Marion E. Taylor, Matt J. Winn, Charles F. Grainger, Charles B. Norton and Peter Lee Atherton were appointed a committee to take charge of the running races for the fair.

$2 For Season Tickets.

A general committee on season tickets of admittance to the fair, which, it was decided, would be sold at $2, was appointed, and consists of G. L. Danforth, W. E. Ambrose, Gen. John B. Castleman, Fred Levy, Carl Plink, W. T. C. Cross and E. Weinstock. They were given full power to add such other members as they might desire to handle and control such tickets.

Explicitly and prominently the fair will be in charge of the following committee: Charles B. Norton, J. B. Bowles, Fred Levy, R. C. Watkins, R. H. Hines, Pinkey Vreeland, L. H. Smith, T. Bailey and A. T. Macdonald. The committee was given full power to act without further reference to the board.

The secretary was authorized to pay all bills not exceeding $25 in amount without submitting them to the board for approval. While considering the financial aspect of the proposition a motion was made by Mr. Jones for the board to investigate whether the catalogue of the fair might be published in such matters, to see if satisfactory arrangements could be made with him to handle the privileges during the progress at the meeting Friday. Examination of the catalogue of the fair, it is estimated that, if the State will do so, over $1,000 will be saved to the board, which will, at the same time, get the benefit from the advertising matter that will be included in the catalogue.

Concessions Committee.

Clarence Snow was requested to consult W. E. Snow, who is experienced in such matters, to see if satisfactory arrangements could be made with him to handle the privileges during the progress at the meeting Friday. Examination of the catalogue of the fair, it is estimated that, if the State will do so, over $1,000 will be saved to the board, which will, at the same time, get the benefit from the advertising matter that will be included in the catalogue.

George L. Danforth, James B. Campbell and L. H. Hudson were appointed to investigate the question of music for the fair and were instructed to report progress at the meeting Friday. Examination of the catalogue of the fair, it is estimated that, if the State will do so, over $1,000 will be saved to the board, which will, at the same time, get the benefit from the advertising matter that will be included in the catalogue.

TAXES NOT DUE

From Hamilton College For Last Five Years.

JUDGE PARKER HOLDS SCHOOL IS EXEMPT.

REVERSES DECISION GIVEN BY COUNTY COURT.

NEWS NOTES OF LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—In the Circuit Court this morning Judge Parker brought in a decision in which he held that Hamilton College, a female school in this city, under the control of the Christian Church, and which is now an annex of the Kentucky University, was not liable for State taxes during the five years from 1888 to 1902. It was leased by Prof. B. C. Hagerman. The agreed value of the college property was about $75,000, and the taxes for the five years, including interest and penalties, aggregated $8,000.

The case was that of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Hamilton College, and had been appealed from the decision of County Judge Bullock, who held that the defendant was liable for the five years' taxation. Judge Parker's decision was that while the college during that period was conducted for gain, it was, in conformity with its charter as an educational institution, under the patronage of the church, and the proceeds from the lease were applied to improvements on the property. Therefore it was not liable for State taxes.

The Commonwealth will take the case to the Court of Appeals.

Wants New Trial.

The attorneys for Aaron McCabe, the negro recently given the death penalty for the murder of Martin Clark, filed a motion for a new trial this morning. Sixteen grounds are given, the most important being that continuing was granted in the case for six days, whereas the prisoner was extended, and the prisoner forced into trial. The witnesses were absent. The court took the matter under advisement.

Death Comes Suddenly.

Mrs. Kate S. Lyle, widow of the late John S. Lyle, died this morning at her home on the Richmond pike, eight miles from Lexington, after an illness of about thirty-six hours. Mrs. Lyle was in Lexington Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at her late residence, from which she had just returned. She was about fifty-five years old, and is survived by three children—Mrs. Susan Casady, of Lexington, and Edwin and Maxwell Lyle, who lived with her mother on the farm. The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at her late residence, with interment in the Lexington cemetery. The Rev. James Miller, pastor of Athens Christian church, will officiate.

Severe Electrical Storm.

A terrific storm of rain, wind and lightning passed over this section about noon today, doing considerable damage both in the city and county. The large tobacco barn of Dr. D. A. Platt, on the Greendale pike, about five miles from the city, was destroyed by lightning. The barn contained hay and farming implements, entailing a loss of about $2,000, partly insured. On the Paris interurban line a number of trees were blown across the track. In this city trees were blown down, and the telephone and street car service was crippled by the burning out of electrical connections. Three street cars were so badly damaged by motors burning out that they had to be sent to the repair shop. Although the storm was at midday, it became so dark that lights had to be used in many business houses and residences. H. P. Hillenmeyer, an old and well-known citizen, stated that it was so dark that it was necessary to have a light for his family to eat dinner by, which had not happened at his house before in thirty years.

about $2,000, partly insured. On the Paris interurban line a number of trees were blown across the track. In this city trees were blown down, and the telephone and street car service was crippled by the burning out of electrical connections. Three street cars were so badly damaged by motors burning out that they had to be sent to the repair shop. Although the storm was at midday, it became so dark that lights had to be used in many business houses and residences. H. P. Hillenmeyer, an old and well-known citizen, stated that it was so dark that it was necessary to have a light for his family to eat dinner by, which had not happened at his house before in thirty years.

Robs House In Daylight.

The residence of T. A. Trowbridge, at Payette Central avenue, was robbed of a gold watch, chain and earring, and a new revolver this afternoon. Within an hour after the theft was detected the detective force of the city, who had most of the stolen goods on their person. He had sold the pistol, and was trying to pawn the other articles when caught.

Pastor Receives Call.

The Rev. Austin P. Finley, evangelist and pastor of the South Side Christian church, of this city, has received a call to the Highland-street Christian church, at Worcester, Mass., and will probably accept. He is a native of Alabama, but is a graduate of Kentucky University, and married Miss Elizabeth Schlegel, of Lexington. He has been in charge of the church here for two years.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Men Charged With Assassination of Feudists.

Hindman, Ky., July 23.—The Knott county grand jury has returned indictments against Silas Martin and Alexander Martin, charged with the shooting from ambush Richard Hall and William Thornbury, last Wednesday evening. He had come on the back line from Milton to visit his father in Bedford. In attempting to fight from the hay he fell between the wheels. The hind wheel passed over his head, breaking the lower jawbone. He is reported this morning to be in a serious condition.

SUNSTROKE ON TRACK.

Paducah Man Hit By Train While Unconscious From Heat.

Paducah, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—Overcome with heat while walking the track near Grand Rivers Sunday, James Huff, an employe on the section of the Illinois Central here, was struck by a freight train and hurled twenty feet. His skull was fractured, but it is thought the surgeons of the Illinois Central hospital that he will recover. Huff is married and lives at Grand Rivers.

ALLEGED "GO-BETWEEN."

Arrested On Charge of Swindling Farmers In Paducah.

Paducah, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—D. H. Blackwell, charged with being the "go-between" in a big green goods game pulled off in Paducah May 29, in which Lafayette and Frank Robinson brothers of Milan, Tenn., were swindled out of $500, has been arrested at Scott's Hill, Tenn., and will be brought to Paducah to answer to the charge of being an accomplice in the transaction.

CLAYSVILLE DAMAGED.

Heavy Storm Washes Yards and Farms.

Cynthiana, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—

Communication was opened with Clayville, which was reported to have been destroyed at noon today. At 5 o'clock to-night a heavy wind and rainstorm passed over the village. Water was washing away several bridges and washing away the levees. The roofs of a few barns were blown off.

Rain Damages Crops.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—Heavy rain to-day played havoc with growing crops and caused much damage. Hilly land was badly washed out. On low lands tobacco was washed out, corn blown down and fences washed out. Water fell in torrents. Wheat is ruined in shocks and growing, and in some places has begun to sprout. Hay is badly hurt, also, as also, while corn and tobacco are injured to a great extent. Rain fell for ten days, and weeds are taking all crops.

Henry C. Graves Dead.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—Henry C. Graves, aged sixty-one years, a well-to-do and respected citizen, died at his home near Howard Mill by being overcome with heat about ten days ago. A wife and two children, Mrs. J. E. Graves, of Winchester, and Mrs. J. E. Graves, of this city, survive. Mr. Graves was one of the best known men in Central Kentucky.

Miss Ida Wigal Dead.

Henderson, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—Miss Ida Wigal, niece of the late J. P. Wigal, of Louisville, died at her parents' home here Sunday night, after a lingering illness. She was twenty-eight years of age. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning.

Dies In a Wagon.

Henderson, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Robert Minton, of Smith Mills, this county, died very suddenly in a wagon while the family was returning home after spending Sunday with relatives at Alzey. Heart failure was the cause.

THE DREADNAUGHT.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING BIG BATTLESHIP.

Will Have Ten Twelve-Inch Guns and Twenty-seven Anti-Torpedo Boat Guns.

London, July 23.—The first official announcement concerning the battleship Dreadnaught is contained in a white book on naval construction, which was issued to-night. Besides the twelve-inch guns, the Dreadnaught will have twenty-seven twelve-pound anti-torpedo boat guns and five submerged torpedo tubes. In the arrangement of armament six of the big guns are mounted in pairs on the center line of the ship and the remaining four are mounted in pairs as broadsides. Thus, eight twelve-inch guns or 80 per cent. of the plain armament can be fired on either broadside, and four possibly six twelve-inch guns or 60 per cent. can be fired simultaneously head or astern. In view of the modern possibilities of torpedo boats and considering especially the chances of a torpedo attack toward the end of the battle, the anti-torpedo boat guns are widely separated, so that the whole of the ship cannot be disabled by one heavy shell.

Special attention has been paid to protection from submarine explosions. After thorough consideration from every point of view the White Book states, experts had no difficulty in arriving at a decision to adopt turbines, which are considered more advantageous for sea-going speed, providing sufficient horsepower and turning power for purposes of quick and easy maneuvering. The speed is designed to be twenty-one knots. The bunker capacity is 2,700 tons, with which the Dreadnaught can steam 5,500 sea miles at economical speed and 3,500 miles at high speed.

The estimated cost of the Dreadnaught, including guns, is $8,987,485.

Woman and Children Killed.

Watertown, S. D., July 23.—Mrs. Gus Berndt, and two daughters, aged seven and nine years, were run down on a trestle by a Rock Island train near Watertown today and killed.

GENERAL ORDERS

Issued by Adjutant General Henry Lawrence

FOR GUIDANCE OF OFFICERS AND MEN IN CAMP.

RIFLE PRACTICE WILL RECEIVE SPECIAL ATTENTION.

TO SELECT KENTUCKY TEAM.

Frankfort, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—The general orders covering the annual encampment of the Kentucky State Guard, to be held this year at Henderson, from August 13 to September 7, containing information for the members of the several organizations of the Guard, and designating officers to be in command, were issued to-day from the Department of the Adjutant General. The camp will be under control of Adjutant General Lawrence and Assistant Adjutant General Parrent, the General Staff being dispensed with for this encampment.

An officer of the United States army will be detailed by the Government to instruct officers and men. Especial attention will be given to rifle practice. Means will be provided for the officers and men making the highest scores. During the encampment the Inspector of Small Arms Rifle Practice of the Guard will begin the selection of a team to represent the State of Kentucky at the National match of 1907.

General Order In Full.

The general order follows in full: The State of Kentucky, Adjutant General's Office.—First—In accordance with executive orders of this date, and in compliance with the provisions of the act of January 21, 1906, a camp of instruction for rifle practice, drills and field instruction will be held at Henderson, Ky., from the year 1906, as follows:

First Infantry, Col. William B. Hatfield, commanding, August 13 to 23, inclusive.

Second Infantry, Col. Joseph Henry, commanding, August 23 to 29, inclusive.

Signal Corps, Capt. Harry G. Donaldson, commanding, August 13 to 29, inclusive.

Detail Company A, Second Infantry, Capt. C. W. Longmire, commanding, August 13 to 29, inclusive.

Second—Col. Mervin Parrent, Asst. Adj. Gen., will be in command of the camp of Engineers and Inspector Small Arms Rifle Practice, and Capt. Frank J. Dodge, Asst. Adj. Gen., will be in command of the camp of Artillery.

Third—Capt. W. L. Longmire, Asst. Adj. Gen., will be in command of the camp of Signal Corps, and Capt. Harry G. Donaldson, Asst. Adj. Gen., will be in command of the camp of Detail Company A.

Fourth—Capt. W. L. Longmire, Asst. Adj. Gen., will be in command of the camp of Signal Corps, and Capt. Harry G. Donaldson, Asst. Adj. Gen., will be in command of the camp of Detail Company A.

Fifth—Capt. C. W. Walker, Company B, Third Infantry, will report to Col. Mervin Parrent for duty in connection with preparing the camp and range.

Sixth—The Regimental Quartermaster and Commissary of each regiment will report to the Adjutant General on the following dates: Those of the First Infantry on the morning of August 21; those of the Second Infantry on the morning of August 29.

General on the 30th of July, 1906, submitting all bids received. He will again proceed to Henderson on the 9th of August, 1906, to act as Purchasing Quartermaster and Commissary during the encampment.

Ninth—The following officers and men are ordered on duty at Henderson, and will report to the Adjutant General as follows: Capt. J. R. Sams, Second Infantry, August 13 to September 7, inclusive—Assistant Range Officer.

Capt. J. H. Lilla, Ordnance Department, August 13 to September 7, inclusive—Special duty in Sanitary Department.

First Lieut. Robert Terrell, Second Infantry, August 13 to September 7, inclusive—Range Quartermaster.

First Lieut. Jerry J. Downing, unassigned, will be in charge of the camp, subject to the Adjutant General's Department and in the Quartermaster's Department.

Second Lieut. Frank C. Hutchison, Second Infantry, August 13 to September 7, inclusive—Special duty in the Quartermaster's Department and in the Quartermaster's Department.

Private F. R. Feland, Company D, Second Infantry, August 13 to September 7, inclusive—Special duty in the Quartermaster's Department.

The camp equipment, will, as heretofore, be furnished from the State Arsenal and delivered at camp. No requisition will be given for rifle practice.

The necessary subsistence, forage, fuel, horses, straw for bedding, and Quartermaster supplies, will be furnished at camp.

Eleventh—Officers and men will travel and appear at camp in the uniform of the service uniform and heavy marching order. Every officer will be furnished with a regulation service uniform of khaki or drab, puttees, leggings and tan shoes. The men will be equipped for field service, care being taken that every article of their clothing and equipment is furnished.

Every article of clothing and equipment will be furnished at camp. Officers and men will be furnished with a regulation service uniform of khaki or drab, puttees, leggings and tan shoes. The men will be equipped for field service, care being taken that every article of their clothing and equipment is furnished.

Twelfth—All organizations at such distances from Henderson as will require travel of more than ten miles, and who are unable to travel by rail or by stage, will be furnished with a regulation service uniform of khaki or drab, puttees, leggings and tan shoes. The men will be equipped for field service, care being taken that every article of their clothing and equipment is furnished.

Thirteenth—All company and detachment commanders will have their ration tickets signed by the Adjutant General, and will be furnished with a regulation service uniform of khaki or drab, puttees, leggings and tan shoes. The men will be equipped for field service, care being taken that every article of their clothing and equipment is furnished.

Fourteenth—The same conditions will be observed in this regard, and each company commander will remain with his company, also to who they enter on the Government pay rolls.

Fifteenth—Transportation orders will be issued by the Adjutant General to each organization of the guard, and care will be taken that only the exact number of regularly enrolled officers and men are transported, and that transportation is not used for any other purpose.

Sixteenth—The pay rolls, which are vouchers to the abstract of pay, will be in duplicate, according to the nature of the service, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for which pay is due, and will be entered in the column of "total days." The signature of each person whose name appears on the roll as entitled to pay must appear on each roll, and must be the same as the entry in the column of names. A witness to the signature is necessary only when the person being unable to write, signs by mark. In appropriate bills and notes on these rolls will be found the per diem pay of all grades in the United States army (the same pay governing the enlisted men) and a monthly statement of pay of enlisted men. The numbers in brackets will indicate the number of days for

STRICT ORDERS

Given New Albany Police as to Law Breakers.

ATTEMPTORS OF GAMBLING AND SALOON LAWS.

LOT OF SLOT MACHINES SEIZED IN A SALOON.

SOME CONTAINED MONEY.

The Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners, of New Albany, held a special meeting last night in the office of the superintendent at the Central Police Station. The object of the meeting was to take steps at once to have the law rigidly enforced by the police of that city. Particular stress was laid on violations of those sections of the law relating to gambling and the saloon business. It was decided to employ Judge Alexander Dowling, former judge of the Supreme Court of Indiana, to assist George B. McIntyre, the prosecuting attorney, in conducting the cases that will arise from the seizure and confiscation of twenty-five slot machines in New Albany yesterday. Judge Dowling will also be retained to assist in the prosecution of all cases that may arise in the future, for violations of the gambling laws and of the temperance bill. From this action it will be seen that the commissioners are intensely in earnest and the indications are that the law will continue tightly closed.

Commissioners Louis Bir and George Newbanks addressed the patrolmen at roll call and gave the officers to distinctly understand that hereafter they would be held responsible for any violations of the gambling law and also of the Nicholson law that might occur in the districts under their charge while on duty. They were particularly enjoined to exercise extreme vigilance in enforcing that section of the Nicholson law which applies to closing at 11 o'clock at night and on Sunday.

TWENTY-FIVE SLOT MACHINES

Seized By Policemen In Raid On A Saloon.

Patrolmen Seery, Spence and Starr, of the New Albany force, acting under orders of Police Commissioner George Newbanks, searched a room yesterday morning in New Albany, where they found twenty-five slot machines. The machines were taken to the Central Police Station, where they were stored in one of the cells. They were all of the same make and were of the latest type. It is believed that the machines were brought to the city by a man named Joseph Rinn, and the claim is made that they were broken out of a saloon and were being used for the purpose of making money. Several of the machines contained small sums of money, showing that they were being used for the purpose of making money.

SEWER PIPES

Will Be Carried Over Bridge, Decide Board of Public Works.

At the meeting of the New Albany Board of Public Works yesterday a resolution was adopted authorizing the Marion County Construction Company, contractors for the sewer system, to carry the sewer pipes across Falling Run creek over the State-street bridge by placing heavy beams on the piers. This added expense will not be at the cost of the contractors, but will be borne by the city.

Action was taken by the board relative to the improvement of Cherry street with granite sidewalk, the resolution adopted for such improvement two weeks ago having been confirmed. It was held that a remonstrance filed against the improvement was insufficient for the reason that the action had been taken before the improvement resolution was adopted. Those opposed to it were given ten days in which to file another remonstrance. The petition filed last Saturday by the Louisville, New Albany, French Lick and West Baden Electric Railway Company, asking for a franchise and right of way from the effects of a petition brought up by Evan B. Stotsen, attorney for the company. No action was taken on the petition, as the board desired to confer with members of the Common Council, it being required that that body ratify the franchise before it could be valid.

VICTIM OF PARALYSIS.

Mrs. Harriet A. Dodd Passes Away In New Albany.

Mrs. Harriet A. Dodd, wife of Henry C. Dodd, of Charleston, Ind., died last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. T. C. Laughlin, 1315 East Spring street, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis sustained Thursday night. From the time of the seizure until her death she never regained consciousness. Mrs. Dodd was a native of Floyd county, fifty-six years old and had lived in New Albany for many years. She was a devoted member of the L. O. O. F. lodge, and upon her removal to Charleston she transferred her membership to the church. She is survived by her husband and two children—Orville Dodd, of Charleston, and Grace Kahl, of St. Louis. She also leaves two brothers—St. Louis, and two sons—New Albany, and John C. Thurman, of Green Bay, Wis., and a sister, Mrs. T. C. Laughlin, New Albany. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN NEW ALBANY.

—Mrs. Lottie Pralle has returned from a recent visit with friends at Huber Station, Ky.

—Willmet Emba, bookkeeper for the Mutual Trust and Loan Company, reported ill at his home on West Main street.

—Arrangements have been made by the Epworth League of the Main-street Methodist church to give a street excursion over the new interurban line to Watson.

—Mrs. Lydia Jackson, an old resident of the county, was in the evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Murphy, 705 East Oak street, when she was killed by a car.

—An alarm was turned in yesterday on the residence of John Verma, East Elm street, above Thirtieth, where the alarm was caused by a defective fuse. The alarm was extinguished, the loss being insignificant.

—The report of the Great Seaside, improved Order of Red Men, received yesterday by officers of the tribes, here, was a gain of 4.60 in the membership of the order in Indiana. In the last six months the order now has a total membership of nearly 50,000 in the State.

—The case of the State against James Young, charged with shooting at James Miller with intent to kill, was tried in Magistrate Fogle's court yesterday, and the defendant dismissed. Miller, who is charged with having assaulted Young, was held in $500 bond for his appearance to answer.

—Howard McClintock, of this city, who has been holding a clerkship for the last four years in the general office of the Atlantic and Coast Line railway, at Wilmington, N. C., has been promoted to the position of traveling auditor of that company, effective August 1. He will travel in Florida, and will have his headquarters in Orlando.

—A picnic and outing will be given this afternoon and night at Glenview Park by the Ladies' Sewing Circle of St. Edward's City Hospital. There will be a picnic during the afternoon, with a number of handsome prizes, and supper will be served during the evening. All the proceeds of the picnic will be for the benefit of the hospital, a liberal patronage is assured.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Primmer, old residents of the city, living at 338 Vincennes street, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, August 12, at King's Cave. Mrs. Primmer was born in 1811, and has performed fifty years ago. Mrs. Primmer's maiden name was Miss Eleanor Lemon. She is in excellent health, with every indication that they will celebrate their diamond anniversary in Orlando.

—George C. Waterhouse, Jr., died Sunday night at the home of his mother, George F. Waterhouse, on the Budd road, two miles west of the city, of consumption. He was a son of the late George F. Waterhouse, and was born in 1844. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge at Festus, Mo. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at the family home, 1223 Vincennes street.

—Arrangements have been made by the Chautauque Association for the appearance of the famous French orchestra and concert company at the meeting in Glenview Park from August 12 to 13 inclusive. This orchestra will furnish the music in the band pavilion in the park during the entire time, and will give a concert on the afternoon of Friday, August 11. The orchestra consists of seventy-five musicians, seven in number, who not only do fine orchestra work, but are also excellent soloists—vocal and instrumental.

—The funeral of Mrs. Harriet A. D. Dodd, of Charleston, Ind., was held yesterday at Springfield, O. Mrs. Dodd was a daughter of the late Thomas Danforth, of New Albany, and was a member of the old New Albany insurance company, which was one of the first insurance companies of the city. She was seventy years old, and is survived by her husband and three children—Mrs. Mary H. Dodd, of Maitland, Mo.; Mrs. Harvey J. Warrick, of Cincinnati; and Mrs. R. L. King, of Hannibal, Mo. Her aged mother, Mrs. Adeline L. Danforth, now ninety-two years old, also survives.

—One of the originators of the crusade temperance movement that swept the country more than thirty years ago.

SWITCHING CASE

WILL BE HEARD BY STATE COMMISSION TO-DAY.

Allegations Made Through Commercial Club—Railroads Deny Jurisdiction.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Seelbach for the purpose of hearing evidence in the complaint filed through the Louisville Commercial Club against the railroads entering the city as to their alleged refusal to switch cars properly.

For instance, it is charged that the Louisville and Nashville, which owns most of the terminals in the city, will not switch cars promptly to plants on their tracks, unless they are hauled by it to Louisville from the closest competitive point, where the shipments originate.

It is alleged that this is an injustice and contrary to the spirit of the law governing common carriers. The Commercial Club is of the opinion that such action is a violation of the law, and that no such state of affairs exists in Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

ANNOUNCE INTENTION.

Positive Decision To Take Order of State Board Commission Into the Courts.

Col. Henry L. Stone, chief counsel for the L. & N. Railroad company, said yesterday, as forecasted in the Courier-Journal of Sunday, that the management of the L. & N. Railroad had decided to resist to the last the order recently issued by the Kentucky Railroad Commission for a general reduction in freight rates on all the railroads in the State.

The order of the commission is effective July 29. Col. Stone would not say what steps he would take in the matter, but he said that he would take the case to the courts.

MANAGERS DID NOT TRY TO KIDNAP HER.

Miss LeBrun Declares Perseverance Good Thing In Grand Opera.

Miss Antonette LeBrun, the soprano of the Grand Opera, who is appearing at the Metropolitan Opera house, declared yesterday that she would not be taken to the courts by the managers of the opera house, who are trying to kidnap her.

—During the storm yesterday morning a tree at the Volpe homestead, Maple and Birch streets, was struck by lightning, but not badly damaged. A number of people were in the house, and the lightning struck the house, a square away, and the building had been struck and became very hot.

—The Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners is considering the question of the example of the New Albany board in offering a reward for information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of saloonkeepers who violate the law. As far as the police force is able the board will do its best to enforce the law.

—William Lane, colored, who shot Marie Miller at Sixth street and Broadway two weeks ago, was arraigned in City Court yesterday morning on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, and was held over to the Circuit Court in $500 bond, which he failed to give.

—Clyde Nanz, of this city, was present during the trouble at Sixteenth and Maple streets, Louisville, Saturday night that resulted in the death of Albert Roberts. He was in the crowd, but did not take part in the trouble.

—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

—There's a Reason

ESCAPING STEAM

From Locomotive Causes Horse to Overturn Buggy.

ALLEGED OCCUPANTS WERE INJURED BY ACCIDENT.

TWO SUITS AGAINST PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD RESULT.

DAMAGES FOR $10,000 ASKED.

Two suits for $5,000 damages each on account of personal injuries were filed in the Clark Circuit Court at Jeffersonville yesterday against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company. They are identical in their allegations, and Mrs. Mary Hinton, of Cincinnati, is made the next friend for the plaintiffs, Kate Hinton and Joseph Smith, both of whom are minors. Mrs. Hinton is the mother of Kate Hinton and Miss Smith lives with the family.

The complaint alleges the plaintiffs were driving along Sixth street, near Broadway, May 27, 1906, and at the time a substantial train passed over the track of the defendant, the engine carelessly allowing steam from the locomotive to escape in such a manner that it went under the body of the horse the young women were driving, which caused the animal to become frightened and to wheeling wildly turned the carriage over to which it was attached. It is alleged both occupants were hurt. It is claimed Miss Hinton was permanently injured about the head, while Miss Smith sustained a fractured leg.

Conceded to Catch.

At the rate of from two to six victims per night the poultry population of a Jeffersonville fashionable neighborhood has been disappearing at the teeth of a time-pet on foot, but the animal has passed the childhood of its life and is now looked upon as a wild monster, whose only mission is to destroy anything in the chicken line from the broiler up to the old hen on a nest endeavoring to increase her posterity.

Notes of the News in Jeffersonville.

—Mrs. Martha J. Cummins yesterday conveyed to Samuel E. Stanley eleven lots in the town of Howard Park for a consideration of $1,400.

—Mrs. S. E. Carr, Deputy Circuit Clerk, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

—The annual excursion of Rebekah B. Allen, of the city, to the city of Louisville, which naturally gives the city an advantage over Louisville. Business men operating plants in the city and railroad men will appear before the commission.

—The railroad men say that the State Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over the matter from the facts that in every instance complained of, it was interstate business, and not business originating and terminating wholly in the State. However, all three sides will be fought out before the commission.

—On a telephone message from Roy Hough, Marshal of Scottsburg, Thomas H. Hough, of Scottsburg, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on Louis Riechert, a member of the Board of Supervisors, is being held in the city jail.

ENGLISH HACKNEY SOCIETY

OFFERS MEDAL FOR HORSE SHOW

Two Cups Donated Yesterday and Prospects For Great Exhibition Seem Bright.

W. J. Hogan, president of the Kentucky Horse Show Society, yesterday received a communication from Frank E. Euren, secretary of the Hackney Horse Society, of London, Eng., in which it was announced that that society would give a silver medal to the best hackney stallion in the horse show at Louisville. This offer adds the sixtieth class to the list of the coming show. As made up, classes are included for roadsters, heavy harness horses, hackneys, five-gaited saddle horses, three-gaited saddle horses, polo ponies and ponies. The medal which has been offered will bear the name of the winner. It is a prize which will be much coveted by breeders of hackneys.

A contribution to the Horse Show prize list for 1906 was made yesterday by the Hackney Horse Society, of London, Eng., which gave two cups, each valued at $100. One is to be offered in Class No. 1, for five-gaited saddle horses, stallion, mare or gelding, four-year-old and under. The other cup is offered in class No. 46, local heavy harness horses, suitable for city use. The cup in each class will constitute the first prize. The acquisition of the first cup brings up the total value of the prizes in the five-gaited saddle horse class to $500.

Both of these are prominent classes, No. 47, being of great interest to saddle horsemen in Kentucky and other States. Class No. 46 is open only to residents of Louisville, Jefferson county, Kentucky and Floyd county, Indiana. The honor of winning in these classes is coveted by all horsemen.

Numerous requests have been received daily by the society for information regarding the coming Horse Show and, judging from the interest manifested by exhibitors in Kentucky and other States, the prospects for a large entry list are encouraging. The prize list is now in the hands of the proper authorities, and a copy may be obtained at the office of the society, room 313 Keller building.

Five firms were indicted, all being members of the Ice Dealers' Exchange. Those indicted are members of the exclusive Ice Dealers' Association, organized in 1904 when a general advance in the price was decided on.

GOVERNMENT'S CHARGES DENIED BY DRUG HOUSES.

B. F. Stearns & Co. Say the Complaint Has Not Set Up a Cause of Action.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—A demurrer was filed to-day by B. F. Stearns & Co., of Detroit, in the suit brought by the United States against the National Organization of Retail Druggists and others alleging an illegal combination. F. Stearns & Co. in the bill of complaint was mentioned as one of the "black list manufacturers" which, as alleged in the bill, had entered into an unlawful conspiracy with the national association of retail druggists, the tripartite proprietors, the wholesale and retail druggists, to place in restraint of interstate trade and commerce carried on by the manufacturers, and to suppress competition between the manufacturers and the dealers. It had been asked in the bill of complaint, in a general allegation, that the defendants, as alleged in the bill, had entered into an unlawful conspiracy with the national association of retail druggists, the tripartite proprietors, the wholesale and retail druggists, to place in restraint of interstate trade and commerce carried on by the manufacturers, and to suppress competition between the manufacturers and the dealers. It had been asked in the bill of complaint, in a general allegation, that the defendants, as alleged in the bill, had entered into an unlawful conspiracy with the national association of retail druggists, the tripartite proprietors, the wholesale and retail druggists, to place in restraint of interstate trade and commerce carried on by the manufacturers, and to suppress competition between the manufacturers and the dealers.

CHIEF TYSON WANTS FIRE LINE ESTABLISHED

MATTER WILL BE LOOKED INTO BY AUTHORITIES.

LOCOMOTIVE WHISTLING NUISANCE GROWING BETTER.

IT WILL FINALLY SUBSIDE.

For the purpose of securing information preparatory to drawing up an ordinance as to a fire line, Major William Tyson, Chief of the Fire Department, Owen Tyler, acting mayor, members of the Fire Department Council, Col. R. T. Ford, building inspector, and Daniel E. O'Sullivan, assistant city attorney, will make a tour of inspection tomorrow afternoon.

For several years Major Tyson has been anxious to establish a district, within which only brick houses may be erected. Inspectors of the department are ready to co-operate with him, and the assistant city attorney has been asked to draw up the ordinance. The proposed ordinance passes the General Council, fire protection will be much improved, and the nuisance of locomotive whistling will be finally abolished.

NOT ENTIRELY ABATED, But Locomotive Whistling Not So Bad As Formerly.

M. Reicher, a member of the lower board of the General Council, said yesterday afternoon that while the locomotive whistling nuisance has not been entirely abated in South Louisville, there is a noticeable improvement.

"The Board of Public Safety has taken the matter up in earnest and I believe the members are sincere in their effort to bring about a cessation of the nuisance," he said. The train crews in the employ of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company have been asked to refrain from whistling, and the board of public safety has been asked to take action on the matter. It is believed that the nuisance will be finally abolished.

43.7 PER CENT. OF FOODS SHOWN TO BE ADULTERATED.

Indiana State Board of Health Makes Reports On Examinations By Experts.

Indianapolis, July 23.—In a bulletin of the State Board of Health, which has just been issued, the board gives the results of the analysis of 889 samples of food and drug products.

The samples analyzed represent food products, including meat, poultry, fish, and dairy products, and drug products, including medicine, chemicals, and other drugs. The results of the analysis show that 43.7 per cent of the samples were found to be adulterated.

STEAMER FOUNDERS ON LAKE ERIE.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—News reached here late to-day that the steamer William Case, of Detroit, owned by the Detroit and Mackinac Island Ferry Company, had foundered on Lake Erie during a heavy storm.

The steamer was en route from Detroit to Mackinac Island, and was carrying a large number of passengers and cargo. The vessel was last seen on the morning of July 22, and was presumed to have foundered during the night.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are usually warned, because of the uncertainty as to its real character, but is a medicine of known composition, and is a "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

EMMETT M'DERMOTT REPORTED AS IMPROVING.

Emmett M'Dermott, of 123 West Market street, who narrowly escaped death Saturday afternoon at the Kentucky stove works, is reported as improving.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements. It is a little book of some of these endorsements.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Watson

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and Loss of Sleep.

Facsimile Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson, NEW YORK.

35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

EDUCATIONAL.

University-Flexner School, Louisville, Ky., No. 505 Fifth Street.

Situated in a mild, healthful climate, accessible to all parts of the country, offers unusual advantages for preparing boys for the best education in the world. The school is a modern building, newly equipped with the latest scientific apparatus, and is under the supervision of a faculty of the highest caliber. The curriculum is comprehensive, and the instruction is of the highest quality. The school is open to students of all ages and nationalities. For further information, apply to the principal, Mr. J. C. Flexner, at the school.

MISSOURI MILITARY ACADEMY

Select. Thorough. Fit for life or advanced work. Special aid. No failures.

DEATH CLAIMS J. D. STRASSBURG

Oldest Post-Office Employee In United States.

Had Been Clerk In Local Office Sixty-three Years.

Refused Retirement On Pension by Government.

ABSTEMIOUS IN HIS HABITS.

John Dedrick Strassburg, the oldest post-office employee in point of service as well as in years in the United States, and said to be the oldest post-office clerk in the world, died of senility at 3:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, 940 Washington street. He was eighty-eight years of age last June, and had been in continuous service as clerk in the Louisville post-office for the last sixty-three years. He was appointed a clerk in the Louisville post-office March 6, 1843, during the administration of President Tyler. Since then he had served under fifteen different Presidents. He never tasted liquor and abstained from smoking fifteen years ago. He never attended a theater but once in his life, and on but one occasion was out after 11 o'clock at night. He was a native of Hanover, Germany, having been born there June 2, 1818. With his parents he came to America in 1831. He attended school in Lawrenceburg, Ind., and later moved to Baltimore, where he was married. With his wife he came to Louisville June 2, 1842. Dr. H. Mosby was postmaster of Louisville when Mr. Strassburg was first appointed a clerk in the post-office.

When Mr. Strassburg first became a clerk in the Louisville post-office, it was located at Third avenue and Market street, in a building which later became known as the "White Mansion." The only railroad out of Louisville at that time was one which ran as far as Frankfort, Ky. The mails in those days were carried by means of boats and stage coaches only, and there were only four clerks employed in the Louisville post-office. Two of these went on duty at 6 o'clock in the morning, and remained at their post until 6 o'clock at night. The other two clerks went on duty at that hour, and remained at the post-office until 6 o'clock in the morning.

In the course of a few years after Mr. Strassburg entered the Government service, the Louisville post-office was moved from Third avenue and Market street to the building on the northeast corner of Third avenue and Jefferson streets. This building is still standing, and is now occupied as a drug store by T. P. Taylor & Co. According to a son of Mr. Strassburg, the building has been changed but little since it was used as the Louisville post-office.

Place of Honor For Photograph.

Because he was recognized as the oldest post-office clerk in the country in point of service as well as in years, the picture of Mr. Strassburg now occupies a place of honor in the Post-office Department at Washington. This same picture occupied a place in the post-office exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893. During the last seven or eight months of his life Mr. Strassburg was a privileged character about the post-office. He was allowed to go and come as he pleased, but he insisted on registering the time of his arrival at the post-office each morning, and the time of his departure at night, just as the other clerks are required to do. The Government has offered to pension him on several occasions, but each time he refused, having held that he felt better satisfied at work. He was employed as distributing clerk in the mailing department, and despite his extreme age he was seldom known to make a mistake. He was a man, wonderfully well preserved for his age, and was as active as most men of fifty-five or sixty. He usually walked with a cane and umbrella, but he could distribute his mail with as much dispatch as anyone. He was forced to leave the post-office earlier than usual one week ago last Monday, and was never able to resume his duties. Just before leaving for his home, he handed his time key to Henry Stachelshold, probably the next oldest clerk in point of service in the Louisville post-office to Mr. Strassburg, and asked him to register the time of his departure.

Born An English Subject.

Despite the fact that Mr. Strassburg was a native of Germany, he was an English subject, Hanover having been under England's jurisdiction at the time of his birth, and until he, with his parents, came to America. After moving with his parents from Lawrenceburg, Ind., to Baltimore, Md., he mastered the trade of carpenter, and for several years was engaged in the manufacture of boxes. After coming to Louisville he worked at his trade until he secured his appointment as clerk in the Louisville post-office.

Louisville was a city of about 20,000 inhabitants when Mr. Strassburg first entered the mail service here. As an illustration of the cheapness of ground in the city at that time he often related to his children how on one occasion he

OLDEST POSTAL CLERK IN WORLD DIES OF SENILITY

That is the way a good many people talked when the Rev. Mr. W. Wood came to this city a year and a half ago and began to advocate a community church in vicinity of the Kellogg street school, says the Wichita Eagle. To-day every man, woman and child in that part of the city is heartily in favor of the new plan and they never miss an opportunity to speak a good word for it.

"This is the only church of its kind in Kansas," it is said. It is held only on Sundays, but every day in the week.

Imagine, if you can, a church with a gymnasium, a playroom, a library, a bathroom and a big outdoor playground, all so managed that every part of the building is used for some purpose other than, and you have a picture of Fellowship Church. Then imagine such a church open day and night seven days in the week and you can get some idea of the work undertaken by the Rev. Mr. Wood. It is not an experiment, but a success. It has proved such a success that no members in January, 1905, it has grown to have a membership of ninety-five, with a Sunday school enrollment of 250.

When the new Fraternal Society sends its representatives to Congress, they will see a type of American woman new at the capital, for among the gentlemen from Oklahoma may be seen a woman who is the wife of a pioneer or married to a pioneer. The women of the Five Civilized Tribes, who are now being assimilated into the white race, are being educated by the government. They are being taught to read and write, and to do the work of a white woman. They are being taught to be good citizens, and to be good mothers. They are being taught to be good Americans.

Mr. Strassburg is survived by one son and three daughters. They are Mrs. Helen Strassburg and Charles E. Strassburg, with whom he lived, Mrs. Adam Kraier, of 1412 Baxter avenue, and Mrs. Charles Ott, of 924 Geiger street.

Originally a Whig.

Politically, Mr. Strassburg was originally what in those days was termed an Iron Whig. He later developed into a Democrat, and for years voted nothing but the straight Democratic ticket. In view of the fact that post-office positions are controlled more or less by politics, the fact that he was enabled to retain his position throughout all the political changes is looked upon as little less than marvelous. He was never afraid to express his political views, but never made himself offensive in politics.

The funeral of Mr. Strassburg will be conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, at the German Methodist Episcopal church, of which he was a member, at 2:30 o'clock. The burial will be in Eastern cemetery.

Those who have been selected to act as pallbearers are: Andrew Ellinger, Jacob Edinger, John Stutz, Frank Weber, George Stutz and Edward Peter.

Friend of Kentucky Giant.

James Porter, who was known as the Kentucky giant, and who lived at Shippingport, and Mr. Strassburg were staunch friends. The latter often related interesting stories of Porter, and recalled how the giant, when he carried the mail from the post-office to Shippingport, used to walk out to the curb, swing one leg over his horse's back, and take his place in the saddle without lifting the other foot from the sidewalk. Porter was seven feet eight inches tall, and his height was always a source of wonder to Mr. Strassburg. The latter was a man who loved to relate stories of the early days. In addition to being companionable, he was kind-hearted, and performed many deeds of charity that few people knew about.

After returning to his home from the post-office one week ago last Monday, Mr. Strassburg was forced to take to his bed. He made several determined efforts to rally, but instead he grew weaker. He was able to leave his bed for a few minutes Sunday for the last time. He sank into unconsciousness on registering the time of his arrival at the post-office each morning, and the time of his departure at night, just as the other clerks are required to do. The Government has offered to pension him on several occasions, but each time he refused, having held that he felt better satisfied at work. He was employed as distributing clerk in the mailing department, and despite his extreme age he was seldom known to make a mistake. He was a man, wonderfully well preserved for his age, and was as active as most men of fifty-five or sixty. He usually walked with a cane and umbrella, but he could distribute his mail with as much dispatch as anyone. He was forced to leave the post-office earlier than usual one week ago last Monday, and was never able to resume his duties. Just before leaving for his home, he handed his time key to Henry Stachelshold, probably the next oldest clerk in point of service in the Louisville post-office to Mr. Strassburg, and asked him to register the time of his departure.

Didn't Like Theaters.

Mr. Strassburg was the last surviving charter member of White Stewart Lodge of Masons, of Louisville. He was also one of the charter members of Robert E. Lee Lodge, Knights of Honor. He was a widower, his wife having died in 1887. It was while paying court to her that he was forced to remain out after 11 o'clock one night in order to see her safely home from a party. The first and last time that he attended a theater was while he was living in Baltimore. On that occasion he left the theater before the play was over, and announced upon his return home that he thought theaters were a waste of money.

Local Option Election.

Versailles, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—County Judge Wilcox to-day, on petition of 25 per cent of the legal voters in each precinct of the county, ordered an election on local option to be held in the next election, and this was announced on Thursday, September 29. The petitions were signed by 720 voters.

View of recent race between the City of Louisville and the little Laura Jean, in which the launch outran the big steamer in the Ohio river above Louisville.

SKATING IN WHICH NEWEST ADJUNCT TO SECURE Worshippers.

BATHROOM AND GYMNASIUM
ALSO FEATURES.

BUILDING ALWAYS OPEN THE
YEAR ROUND.

PLANS PROVE SUCCESSFUL.

"We do not care to attend a church
in this city."

That is the way a good many people talked when the Rev. Mr. W. Wood came to this city a year and a half ago and began to advocate a community church in vicinity of the Kellogg street school, says the Wichita Eagle. To-day every man, woman and child in that part of the city is heartily in favor of the new plan and they never miss an opportunity to speak a good word for it.

"This is the only church of its kind in Kansas," it is said. It is held only on Sundays, but every day in the week.

Imagine, if you can, a church with a gymnasium, a playroom, a library, a bathroom and a big outdoor playground, all so managed that every part of the building is used for some purpose other than, and you have a picture of Fellowship Church. Then imagine such a church open day and night seven days in the week and you can get some idea of the work undertaken by the Rev. Mr. Wood. It is not an experiment, but a success. It has proved such a success that no members in January, 1905, it has grown to have a membership of ninety-five, with a Sunday school enrollment of 250.

When the new Fraternal Society sends its representatives to Congress, they will see a type of American woman new at the capital, for among the gentlemen from Oklahoma may be seen a woman who is the wife of a pioneer or married to a pioneer. The women of the Five Civilized Tribes, who are now being assimilated into the white race, are being educated by the government. They are being taught to read and write, and to do the work of a white woman. They are being taught to be good citizens, and to be good mothers. They are being taught to be good Americans.

Mr. Strassburg is survived by one son and three daughters. They are Mrs. Helen Strassburg and Charles E. Strassburg, with whom he lived, Mrs. Adam Kraier, of 1412 Baxter avenue, and Mrs. Charles Ott, of 924 Geiger street.

Originally a Whig.

Politically, Mr. Strassburg was originally what in those days was termed an Iron Whig. He later developed into a Democrat, and for years voted nothing but the straight Democratic ticket. In view of the fact that post-office positions are controlled more or less by politics, the fact that he was enabled to retain his position throughout all the political changes is looked upon as little less than marvelous. He was never afraid to express his political views, but never made himself offensive in politics.

The funeral of Mr. Strassburg will be conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, at the German Methodist Episcopal church, of which he was a member, at 2:30 o'clock. The burial will be in Eastern cemetery.

Those who have been selected to act as pallbearers are: Andrew Ellinger, Jacob Edinger, John Stutz, Frank Weber, George Stutz and Edward Peter.

Friend of Kentucky Giant.

James Porter, who was known as the Kentucky giant, and who lived at Shippingport, and Mr. Strassburg were staunch friends. The latter often related interesting stories of Porter, and recalled how the giant, when he carried the mail from the post-office to Shippingport, used to walk out to the curb, swing one leg over his horse's back, and take his place in the saddle without lifting the other foot from the sidewalk. Porter was seven feet eight inches tall, and his height was always a source of wonder to Mr. Strassburg. The latter was a man who loved to relate stories of the early days. In addition to being companionable, he was kind-hearted, and performed many deeds of charity that few people knew about.

After returning to his home from the post-office one week ago last Monday, Mr. Strassburg was forced to take to his bed. He made several determined efforts to rally, but instead he grew weaker. He was able to leave his bed for a few minutes Sunday for the last time. He sank into unconsciousness on registering the time of his arrival at the post-office each morning, and the time of his departure at night, just as the other clerks are required to do. The Government has offered to pension him on several occasions, but each time he refused, having held that he felt better satisfied at work. He was employed as distributing clerk in the mailing department, and despite his extreme age he was seldom known to make a mistake. He was a man, wonderfully well preserved for his age, and was as active as most men of fifty-five or sixty. He usually walked with a cane and umbrella, but he could distribute his mail with as much dispatch as anyone. He was forced to leave the post-office earlier than usual one week ago last Monday, and was never able to resume his duties. Just before leaving for his home, he handed his time key to Henry Stachelshold, probably the next oldest clerk in point of service in the Louisville post-office to Mr. Strassburg, and asked him to register the time of his departure.

Didn't Like Theaters.

Mr. Strassburg was the last surviving charter member of White Stewart Lodge of Masons, of Louisville. He was also one of the charter members of Robert E. Lee Lodge, Knights of Honor. He was a widower, his wife having died in 1887. It was while paying court to her that he was forced to remain out after 11 o'clock one night in order to see her safely home from a party. The first and last time that he attended a theater was while he was living in Baltimore. On that occasion he left the theater before the play was over, and announced upon his return home that he thought theaters were a waste of money.

Local Option Election.

Versailles, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—County Judge Wilcox to-day, on petition of 25 per cent of the legal voters in each precinct of the county, ordered an election on local option to be held in the next election, and this was announced on Thursday, September 29. The petitions were signed by 720 voters.

View of recent race between the City of Louisville and the little Laura Jean, in which the launch outran the big steamer in the Ohio river above Louisville.

SKATING IN WHICH NEWEST ADJUNCT TO SECURE Worshippers.

BATHROOM AND GYMNASIUM
ALSO FEATURES.

BUILDING ALWAYS OPEN THE
YEAR ROUND.

PLANS PROVE SUCCESSFUL.

"We do not care to attend a church
in this city."

That is the way a good many people talked when the Rev. Mr. W. Wood came to this city a year and a half ago and began to advocate a community church in vicinity of the Kellogg street school, says the Wichita Eagle. To-day every man, woman and child in that part of the city is heartily in favor of the new plan and they never miss an opportunity to speak a good word for it.

"This is the only church of its kind in Kansas," it is said. It is held only on Sundays, but every day in the week.

Imagine, if you can, a church with a gymnasium, a playroom, a library, a bathroom and a big outdoor playground, all so managed that every part of the building is used for some purpose other than, and you have a picture of Fellowship Church. Then imagine such a church open day and night seven days in the week and you can get some idea of the work undertaken by the Rev. Mr. Wood. It is not an experiment, but a success. It has proved such a success that no members in January, 1905, it has grown to have a membership of ninety-five, with a Sunday school enrollment of 250.

When the new Fraternal Society sends its representatives to Congress, they will see a type of American woman new at the capital, for among the gentlemen from Oklahoma may be seen a woman who is the wife of a pioneer or married to a pioneer. The women of the Five Civilized Tribes, who are now being assimilated into the white race, are being educated by the government. They are being taught to read and write, and to do the work of a white woman. They are being taught to be good citizens, and to be good mothers. They are being taught to be good Americans.

Mr. Strassburg is survived by one son and three daughters. They are Mrs. Helen Strassburg and Charles E. Strassburg, with whom he lived, Mrs. Adam Kraier, of 1412 Baxter avenue, and Mrs. Charles Ott, of 924 Geiger street.

Originally a Whig.

Politically, Mr. Strassburg was originally what in those days was termed an Iron Whig. He later developed into a Democrat, and for years voted nothing but the straight Democratic ticket. In view of the fact that post-office positions are controlled more or less by politics, the fact that he was enabled to retain his position throughout all the political changes is looked upon as little less than marvelous. He was never afraid to express his political views, but never made himself offensive in politics.

The funeral of Mr. Strassburg will be conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, at the German Methodist Episcopal church, of which he was a member, at 2:30 o'clock. The burial will be in Eastern cemetery.

Those who have been selected to act as pallbearers are: Andrew Ellinger, Jacob Edinger, John Stutz, Frank Weber, George Stutz and Edward Peter.

Friend of Kentucky Giant.

James Porter, who was known as the Kentucky giant, and who lived at Shippingport, and Mr. Strassburg were staunch friends. The latter often related interesting stories of Porter, and recalled how the giant, when he carried the mail from the post-office to Shippingport, used to walk out to the curb, swing one leg over his horse's back, and take his place in the saddle without lifting the other foot from the sidewalk. Porter was seven feet eight inches tall, and his height was always a source of wonder to Mr. Strassburg. The latter was a man who loved to relate stories of the early days. In addition to being companionable, he was kind-hearted, and performed many deeds of charity that few people knew about.

After returning to his home from the post-office one week ago last Monday, Mr. Strassburg was forced to take to his bed. He made several determined efforts to rally, but instead he grew weaker. He was able to leave his bed for a few minutes Sunday for the last time. He sank into unconsciousness on registering the time of his arrival at the post-office each morning, and the time of his departure at night, just as the other clerks are required to do. The Government has offered to pension him on several occasions, but each time he refused, having held that he felt better satisfied at work. He was employed as distributing clerk in the mailing department, and despite his extreme age he was seldom known to make a mistake. He was a man, wonderfully well preserved for his age, and was as active as most men of fifty-five or sixty. He usually walked with a cane and umbrella, but he could distribute his mail with as much dispatch as anyone. He was forced to leave the post-office earlier than usual one week ago last Monday, and was never able to resume his duties. Just before leaving for his home, he handed his time key to Henry Stachelshold, probably the next oldest clerk in point of service in the Louisville post-office to Mr. Strassburg, and asked him to register the time of his departure.

Didn't Like Theaters.

Mr. Strassburg was the last surviving charter member of White Stewart Lodge of Masons, of Louisville. He was also one of the charter members of Robert E. Lee Lodge, Knights of Honor. He was a widower, his wife having died in 1887. It was while paying court to her that he was forced to remain out after 11 o'clock one night in order to see her safely home from a party. The first and last time that he attended a theater was while he was living in Baltimore. On that occasion he left the theater before the play was over, and announced upon his return home that he thought theaters were a waste of money.

Local Option Election.

Versailles, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—County Judge Wilcox to-day, on petition of 25 per cent of the legal voters in each precinct of the county, ordered an election on local option to be held in the next election, and this was announced on Thursday, September 29. The petitions were signed by 720 voters.

View of recent race between the City of Louisville and the little Laura Jean, in which the launch outran the big steamer in the Ohio river above Louisville.

SKATING IN WHICH NEWEST ADJUNCT TO SECURE Worshippers.

BATHROOM AND GYMNASIUM
ALSO FEATURES.

BUILDING ALWAYS OPEN THE
YEAR ROUND.

PLANS PROVE SUCCESSFUL.

"We do not care to attend a church
in this city."

That is the way a good many people talked when the Rev. Mr. W. Wood came to this city a year and a half ago and began to advocate a community church in vicinity of the Kellogg street school, says the Wichita Eagle. To-day every man, woman and child in that part of the city is heartily in favor of the new plan and they never miss an opportunity to speak a good word for it.

"This is the only church of its kind in Kansas," it is said. It is held only on Sundays, but every day in the week.

Imagine, if you can, a church with a gymnasium, a playroom, a library, a bathroom and a big outdoor playground, all so managed that every part of the building is used for some purpose other than, and you have a picture of Fellowship Church. Then imagine such a church open day and night seven days in the week and you can get some idea of the work undertaken by the Rev. Mr. Wood. It is not an experiment, but a success. It has proved such a success that no members in January, 1905, it has grown to have a membership of ninety-five, with a Sunday school enrollment of 250.

When the new Fraternal Society sends its representatives to Congress, they will see a type of American woman new at the capital, for among the gentlemen from Oklahoma may be seen a woman who is the wife of a pioneer or married to a pioneer. The women of the Five Civilized Tribes, who are now being assimilated into the white race, are being educated by the government. They are being taught to read and write, and to do the work of a white woman. They are being taught to be good citizens, and to be good mothers. They are being taught to be good Americans.

Mr. Strassburg is survived by one son and three daughters. They are Mrs. Helen Strassburg and Charles E. Strassburg, with whom he lived, Mrs. Adam Kraier, of 1412 Baxter avenue, and Mrs. Charles Ott, of 924 Geiger street.

Originally a Whig.

Politically, Mr. Strassburg was originally what in those days was termed an Iron Whig. He later developed into a Democrat, and for years voted nothing but the straight Democratic ticket. In view of the fact that post-office positions are controlled more or less by politics, the fact that he was enabled to retain his position throughout all the political changes is looked upon as little less than marvelous. He was never afraid to express his political views, but never made himself offensive in politics.

The funeral of Mr. Strassburg will be conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, at the German Methodist Episcopal church, of which he was a member, at 2:30 o'clock. The burial will be in Eastern cemetery.

Those who have been selected to act as pallbearers are: Andrew Ellinger, Jacob Edinger, John Stutz, Frank Weber, George Stutz and Edward Peter.

Friend of Kentucky Giant.

James Porter, who was known as the Kentucky giant, and who lived at Shippingport, and Mr. Strassburg were staunch friends. The latter often related interesting stories of Porter, and recalled how the giant, when he carried the mail from the post-office to Shippingport, used to walk out to the curb, swing one leg over his horse's back, and take his place in the saddle without lifting the other foot from the sidewalk. Porter was seven feet eight inches tall, and his height was always a source of wonder to Mr. Strassburg. The latter was a man who loved to relate stories of the early days. In addition to being companionable, he was kind-hearted, and performed many deeds of charity that few people knew about.

After returning to his home from the post-office one week ago last Monday, Mr. Strassburg was forced to take to his bed. He made several determined efforts to rally, but instead he grew weaker. He was able to leave his bed for a few minutes Sunday for the last time. He sank into unconsciousness on registering the time of his arrival at the post-office each morning, and the time of his departure at night, just as the other clerks are required to do. The Government has offered to pension him on several occasions, but each time he refused, having held that he felt better satisfied at work. He was employed as distributing clerk in the mailing department, and despite his extreme age he was seldom known to make a mistake. He was a man, wonderfully well preserved for his age, and was as active as most men of fifty-five or sixty. He usually walked with a cane and umbrella, but he could distribute his mail with as much dispatch as anyone. He was forced to leave the post-office earlier than usual one week ago last Monday, and was never able to resume his duties. Just before leaving for his home, he handed his time key to Henry Stachelshold, probably the next oldest clerk in point of service in the Louisville post-office to Mr. Strassburg, and asked him to register the time of his departure.

Didn't Like Theaters.

Mr. Strassburg was the last surviving charter member of White Stewart Lodge of Masons, of Louisville. He was also one of the charter members of Robert E. Lee Lodge, Knights of Honor. He was a widower, his wife having died in 1887. It was while paying court to her that he was forced to remain out after 11 o'clock one night in order to see her safely home from a party. The first and last time that he attended a theater was while he was living in Baltimore. On that occasion he left the theater before the play was over, and announced upon his return home that he thought theaters were a waste of money.

Local Option Election.

Versailles, Ky., July 23.—[Special.]—County Judge Wilcox to-day, on petition of 25 per cent of the legal voters in each precinct of the county, ordered an election on local option to be held in the next election, and this was announced on Thursday, September 29. The petitions were signed by 720 voters.

View of recent race between the City of Louisville and the little Laura Jean, in which the launch outran the big steamer in the Ohio river above Louisville.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL MONETARY.

Monday Evening, July 23.—Banks reported a busy time to-day, with an active borrowing demand, large drafts and a good counter-balance. Rates for money were quoted at 5 to 6 per cent. Money on call in the New York credit market was easy, rates ranging from 2 to 2 1/2 per cent. Time funds were strong at 4 1/2 to 5 1/2.

Exchange on New York was easier, selling at par and being quoted at par to 2 1/2 premium. The report of the Clearing-house to-day was as follows:

Day's clearing, $2,033,367
Balance, 270,116

There was a fair demand for Springfield, Kansas City, St. Louis, St. Paul, Portland and Portland Railway, Light and Power common in the local stock market to-day. Springfield, Kansas City and St. Louis were offered at 84 and 84 1/2, compared with 82 and 82 1/2 on Friday. Central Home Telephone was in good request and was wanted at 10 1/2 and 10 3/4. Portland common was wanted at 72. West Penn common was fractionally higher. Louisville Traction common was quiet. St. Louis United Railways common and Kansas City Railway and Light common were easy. At the Stock Exchange Rochester Railway and Light 4 1/2 was bid. L. H. and R. H. 4 1/2 were only asked at 10 1/2 and 10 3/4. Interest, $500 offered at 10 1/2 and 10 3/4 for $500. For $5,000 New Orleans Railway and Light 4 1/2 was bid. L. H. and R. H. 4 1/2 were only asked at 10 1/2 and 10 3/4.

Twenty-five shares of Louisville Gas were offered at 144. Ten shares of Louisville Traction were offered at 70 1/2. For three shares of Merchants' Ice 10 1/2 was bid. Louisville Traction common was 10 1/2. Ten shares and ten shares offered at 18. Springfield was 84. Bid for ten shares of 84 1/2 for ten, thirty shares offered at 84 1/2 and 100 shares offered at 84 1/2. For twenty shares 84 1/2 was bid. West Penn common was 84 1/2 for ten shares and twenty shares of the preferred were offered at 84 1/2. There were sales of St. Louis United common at 40 and at the close of the afternoon session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange it was quoted at 48 and 40 asked. The preferred closed at 80 1/2 to 81 and the 4 per cent bond at 85 1/2. Final figures on Kansas City Railway and Light common were 77 1/2 and 58 1/2, asked. Subway 45 to 45 1/2.

Centuries sold at 10 1/2 and 10 3/4 and the latter price was freely bid for more, with very little stock offered. San Francisco common sold in New York at 57 and 5 1/2, and the preferred at 10 1/2 and 10 3/4. Asked at 50 to 52 1/2. There were bids of 72 for Portland common.

The following are the latest bid and asked prices made for securities at the Stock Exchange:

Bonds.

Louisville St. Ry. 5 1/2, 10 1/2, 10 3/4, 11 1/2, 11 3/4, 12 1/2, 12 3/4, 13 1/2, 13 3/4, 14 1/2, 14 3/4, 15 1/2, 15 3/4, 16 1/2, 16 3/4, 17 1/2, 17 3/4, 18 1/2, 18 3/4, 19 1/2, 19 3/4, 20 1/2, 20 3/4, 21 1/2, 21 3/4, 22 1/2, 22 3/4, 23 1/2, 23 3/4, 24 1/2, 24 3/4, 25 1/2, 25 3/4, 26 1/2, 26 3/4, 27 1/2, 27 3/4, 28 1/2, 28 3/4, 29 1/2, 29 3/4, 30 1/2, 30 3/4, 31 1/2, 31 3/4, 32 1/2, 32 3/4, 33 1/2, 33 3/4, 34 1/2, 34 3/4, 35 1/2, 35 3/4, 36 1/2, 36 3/4, 37 1/2, 37 3/4, 38 1/2, 38 3/4, 39 1/2, 39 3/4, 40 1/2, 40 3/4, 41 1/2, 41 3/4, 42 1/2, 42 3/4, 43 1/2, 43 3/4, 44 1/2, 44 3/4, 45 1/2, 45 3/4, 46 1/2, 46 3/4, 47 1/2, 47 3/4, 48 1/2, 48 3/4, 49 1/2, 49 3/4, 50 1/2, 50 3/4, 51 1/2, 51 3/4, 52 1/2, 52 3/4, 53 1/2, 53 3/4, 54 1/2, 54 3/4, 55 1/2, 55 3/4, 56 1/2, 56 3/4, 57 1/2, 57 3/4, 58 1/2, 58 3/4, 59 1/2, 59 3/4, 60 1/2, 60 3/4, 61 1/2, 61 3/4, 62 1/2, 62 3/4, 63 1/2, 63 3/4, 64 1/2, 64 3/4, 65 1/2, 65 3/4, 66 1/2, 66 3/4, 67 1/2, 67 3/4, 68 1/2, 68 3/4, 69 1/2, 69 3/4, 70 1/2, 70 3/4, 71 1/2, 71 3/4, 72 1/2, 72 3/4, 73 1/2, 73 3/4, 74 1/2, 74 3/4, 75 1/2, 75 3/4, 76 1/2, 76 3/4, 77 1/2, 77 3/4, 78 1/2, 78 3/4, 79 1/2, 79 3/4, 80 1/2, 80 3/4, 81 1/2, 81 3/4, 82 1/2, 82 3/4, 83 1/2, 83 3/4, 84 1/2, 84 3/4, 85 1/2, 85 3/4, 86 1/2, 86 3/4, 87 1/2, 87 3/4, 88 1/2, 88 3/4, 89 1/2, 89 3/4, 90 1/2, 90 3/4, 91 1/2, 91 3/4, 92 1/2, 92 3/4, 93 1/2, 93 3/4, 94 1/2, 94 3/4, 95 1/2, 95 3/4, 96 1/2, 96 3/4, 97 1/2, 97 3/4, 98 1/2, 98 3/4, 99 1/2, 99 3/4, 100

